

WHEN YOU SEE OR HEAR THE NAME

BRENLIN

YOU IMMEDIATELY THINK

Window Shades

But that is not all the name stands for; it also means the VERY BEST in Window Shades. Made on a heavier and more closely woven grade of muslin and without any filling of chalk or clay to fall out and leave unsightly pin-holes and streaks. They will not fade nor wrinkle, but are always bright, straight and attractive. They cost a trifle more but will wear twice as long. We are showing BRENLINS in Ivory, Mauve, Van Dyke Brown, Green and the Duplexes.

TRAVELING SALESMAN ROLLS OFF FREIGHT TRAIN; RUN OVER

Vigil H. Campbell, 25 years old, a traveling salesman, found himself in the little mountain town of Abiquiu early with nothing to do. He had visited the business which took him there. Campbell did not wish to wait until the next passenger train reached Abiquiu so he climbed on a Santa Fe freight train which left the town early yesterday morning.

Campbell climbed to the top of a freight car and went to sleep. Two miles beyond Abiquiu on the way to Mountainair he rolled off the car and fell under the wheels. His right leg was annihilated at the hip and his left broke.

Campbell was in an ambulance from Roswell, reaching here at 4 a.m. yesterday morning. On the way they made stops at Tresidder, Tularosa, Burro, Lincoln, Capitan and Naeville. 18 TRUE BILLS FOUND BY GRAND JURY IN 6 DAYS

Judge Raynolds Thanks Jurors for Quick Work; Jury Recommends Instructions to Justices.

The grand jury deplored the necessity of incarcerating the accused and the sick with prisoners in the county jail in its report presented late yesterday afternoon to Judge Herbert P. Raynolds. Although regarding this necessary the grand jury could not ignore the condition would be remedied without the establishment of a home for incurables.

The jury was in session six days in which time it found eighteen true bills and nine "no bills." In dismissing the jury Judge Raynolds thanked the men for their skill and work.

Here is the report:

"We the grand jury, convened and sworn in for the September 19th term in and for Bernalillo County, N. M., herewith submit the following report:

"That we have been in session six days, have examined and investigated twenty-seven cases, have found eighteen true bills and nine 'no bills' during this time the jury has heard 108 witnesses.

"We have examined the jail and found conditions therein satisfactory with the following exception, that the sanitary conditions inside as the installation of bath and the condition of toilet in Justice's ward could be improved. Upon recommendation to the county commissioners, we informed that this would be attended to immediately and our body gave a vote of thanks to the commissioners. We also found several inmates of the jail which we think require medical attention, including one case which we believe to be a syphilitic who is confined with six or seven other healthy prisoners. We have also found persons confined for insanity or otherwise mentally unbalanced, whom we do not believe should be confined with the general run of prisoners. We realize, however, that the county has no infirmary and since there is no other provision made for the keeping of such inmates, the case is deplorable, but we do not see how it can be remedied without the establishing of a home for incurables. Aside from that, everything else is in apparently good condition and prisoners will be in care of.

"We found on investigating the county clerk's that the officers of the peace have obeyed the law in respect to making quarterly reports in the following precincts: Nos. 5 & 7, 12, 15, 22, 26 and 27, and that thirteen precincts have not yet been heard from. The under people some of them happy mothers and proud fathers, who dropped in at the theater for a minute or two, say they never saw anything before so equal to it. They were an aesthetic bunch of youngsters and their laughter could be heard for blocks. The twelve young and pretty high school ladies assisted by Mr. Fox and the regular forces of the theater, saw to it that every child was most carefully bathed after. One wouldn't know that there were so many bright, happy children in the city unless they were there at the B theater yesterday morning and witnessed the most pleasing sight ever seen in Albuquerque.

A PRETTY SIGHT THOSE CHILDREN AT 'B' THEATER

Over 1,600 Youngsters of Albuquerque Enjoyed Themselves as Guests of E. W. Fox Yesterday.

E. W. Fox was at his best yesterday morning and he entertained 1,600 children, some a few more, at the B theater to a rattling good motion picture entertainment. Every one of them clowned every second of the time and such a laughing, happy bunch were never seen in this city before. The under people some of them happy mothers and proud fathers, who dropped in at the theater for a minute or two, say they never saw anything before so equal to it. IN THE DORRIS CASE

The Dorris case was in the hands of the jury at 6 o'clock last night. No verdict had been reached at 10 o'clock. If the jury agreed after that time its verdict would not be known until today.

When the jurors reach an agreement, or when it becomes apparent to the court that it would be useless to hold them longer they will be excused until October 2. No cases were set for trial by jury last week. Other members of the panel were excused last Tuesday, after the Dorris jury was filled, until October 2.
